Dr. A. Hollick,
Staten Island Institute of Arts and Sciences, Tompkinsville, S. I.

Dear Dr. Hollick:-

In response to your question concerning the piece you showed me at Philadelphia, I find that it is a token made by Kettle & Co., of Birmingham, reproducing the 1803 quarter-eagle. They have a slight value only, being on a par with the reproduction of the Spade Guinea manufactured by the same firm.

Yours very respectfully,

Secretary.

Mr. Sydney P. Roe, Secretary,
Amer. Numismatic Society,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Mr. Roe,

Many thanks for your courtesy in identifying for me the "kettle coin".

I have a number of other odds and ends of coinage which I intend to bring to your museum some time, for identification. Possibly I may be able to reciprocate in some way so that the courtesy will not be all on one side.

Sincerely yours
